HAVAS

Paris, May 10th—General Miribel has been appointed Chief of the Staff to the Minister of War.

Rio Janeiro, May 10th—At the request of Marshal Fonseca, the solemn presentation of the Paraguayan war medals will be effected by Sr. Enrique B. Moreno, the Argentine Minister, on the 25th of May, the anniversary of Argentine Independence, on which occasion great fetes will be held in honour of the sister Republic.

Madrid, May 11th—General Cassola, ex Minister of War, died to-day.

London, May 12—The King of the Belgians arrived here to-day.

Madrid, May 12th—The funeral of General Cassola was most imposing; all the Ministers, General Daban, many officers of the army and members of the Cortes were present.

GALVESTON.

Berlin, May 10th—The date for the meeting of the German Miners' Congress has been fixed for the 1st of June in Halle: there will be one delegate for every 10000 miners. The Socialists are in favour of a bill for 10 hours' work per diem up to 1894, to be then reduced to 9 and in 1898 to 8 hours: they will also ask for an Imperial Labour Bureau.

London, May 10—A great sensation has been caused in Russia by the discovery of large and systematic robberies of bombs from the arsenal in Sebastopol and which date from some time back; many employees in the arsenal have been arrested.

Washington, May 10th—With reference to the orders recently given for the four United States men of war forming the Mediterranean squadron to proceed to Brazilian waters, it is said that the State Department considers it important to have our most powerful squadron in Brazil, in order to prevent outside interference with the elections in September next; this squadron is the only one disposable, but it will not start for its new station for a couple of weeks, in order to give the Admiral time to receive detailed instructions.

Berlin, May 10—At his reception to the Ministers, the Emperor said that the new army credits were for the sole purpose of placing the German army in a state of efficiency equal to that of other nations and that the figures had been based on the advice of his generals and military attachés in foreign Courts.

Madrid, May 10—The sentences of imprisonment on Generals Daban and Salcedo for breach of military discipline have been annulled by royal decree.

Vienna, May 10—Telegrams announce that the result of the negotiations between the ecclesiastical court and General Simmons will shortly be made public by the Pope, most probably previously to the June Consistory.

Berlin, May 11th—The Emperor proposes to establish a permanent Labour Council under the presidency of the Board of Trade Minister.

Prince Schoenarch Carolath has separated himself from the Imperialists and has gone over to the National Liberals.

Caprivi is expected to report to the Chambers on the position of the negotiations with England with reference to African boundaries. The English Envoy, Sir Percy Anderson, admits the German claim from the frontier to the Congo Free State and demands for England the White Nile district.

San Francisco, May 11th—News received from Sydney, New South Wales, announces that the greatest floods ever known in Australia occurred on the 19th of April. Bourke's Town was submerged by the River Darling more than three feet, and is now in the centre of a sort of sea four miles wide: many buildings were destroyed.

London, May 11th.—Experiments with American cotton have been recently made in Turkestan; if they prove favourable, the Russian Government will prepare to cultivate it on a large scale.

Constantinople, May 12th—All foreigners here have been advised to keep inside the European quarter, as the army as well as the populace, are greatly incensed at the disappearance of the four Turkish soldiers accused of the outrage on the German sailor. The German Ambassador threatens to ask for his passports if the deliquents be not adequately punished.

Rome, May 12th—At the present moment there are many internal dissensions in Italy. Crispi and the Vatican are eagerly watching Parliament where a serious struggle is being approached on the bill for the deprivation of the clergy from the government of charitable institutions mentioned in previous telegrams; it is expected that the bill will pass if proper provision be made for the clergy. The Pope is said to be very irritated over the matter.

An Italian, named Pietro Conti, has been arrested in Nice as a spy under circumstances which clearly show that for years past he has been employed by the Italian Government in making plans of different French fortifications and in transmitting details of military matters generally. Italy is extreme desirous of re-annexing Nice and the Italian residents there lose no opportunity of evidencing this wish.

WEST COAST TELEGRAMS

Valparaiso, March 12—On Sunday the Bishop of La Paz, Dr. Juan de Dios Bosque, died in La Paz after a painful illness.

The Central and South American Telegraph Company of New York will shortly commence the construction of a new cable between here and Callao to join the cables belonging to the Mexican Telegraph Company, so as to establish direct communication between New York and Valparaiso.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS.

"To be, or not to be." The President's Message which we published in our last, means much or nothing. H.E. addresses the country at one of its most critical periods, and although as a rule, most of these inaugural speeches are of a humdrum flavour, still we think we recognise in the paper a certain sincerity of expression not usual in state documents.

Beset with a severe monetary crisis and a strong political opposition H.E. had, of course, to be most guarded in his expressions, but his welcome to the Union Cívica and his clear and simple schedule of the nation's debts and resources win from us the fullest respect, and the speech breaths an atmosphere of reform which cannot fail to win the esteem of those distinguished men who figure now in the front ranks of the opposition.

We shall not fatigue our readers with any repetition of the President's figures on trade, finance and revenue, but all who read the message can see that with economy and good administration the country is as sound as a bell, and the very evils which since last year afflicted the nation have been corrected by the real monarch of the day—gold—whose empire is supreme even over our Government House. Plain, straightforward, honest dealing, backed by economy, can bring down the premium to a parity with 1888 years prices.

The new Minister of Hacienda knows his task, his elements and his countrymen, and as we have good reason to know, Sr Uriburu meets with the very strongest support in London; we feel quite confident that without any great extra exertion the market will right itself when confidence is restored.

The only flaw we can detect, after a close analysis of the financial part of the message, is the evasive manner in which further issues of paper money are discountenanced. Reading between the lines, and verily that is not difficult, one gleans that if a loan is not secured abroad more paper money will be issued. It may be that neither the President nor his Minister of Finance ever intended to convey such an idea to the reader, but the wording of the message leads to such awkward suppositions in this regard that some emphatic statements from the Finance Office at the present juncture might not be amiss. Let the Minister proclaim in the name of the Government that there shall be no more issue of paper money, and gold will drop like lead.

As a collateral to the above plan we might add, inspired as we are by the most friendly criticism, that something might have been stated with regard to the clandestine issue, real or supposed, of the free banks. Such a burning question should not have been allowed to pass unnoticed, or does the Government think that the people do not think it is of sufficient importance to ventilate in a presidential message. But for these two defects, the message of the President might be considered perfect. We believe him to be sincere, and we feel convinced that every promise made in the message will be carried out. That the President means what he says can be proved by the composition of his Cabinet. Minister Uriburu must now write the appendix to the message in the shape of financial bills before Congress to sift the question of clandestine issues, liquidate free banks, and restore confidence in the financial policy of the Cabinet. Before many days the market will see the straws on the current and judge accordingly; meantime, the message is a promise; subsequent acts must confirm that promise.

PUBLIC MORALITY.

There is a certain ring about the phrase that vibrates familiarly in the ears of all who have ever taken the trouble to peruse the inaugural programme of a rising, or the valedictory address of a retiring statesman. There may be some meaning, some very latent one, in the repeated invocation of public morality, but it is unfortunate that the wisdom of the Tucuman Congressmen, in framing the Constitution of the Republic, neglected to record some definition of this political virtue. The unavoidable consequence of this lack of foresight and absence of definition is that every man has his own views on public morality. A study of the various views on the subject reveals a truly alarming elasticity of opinion. The versatile broker, whose speculative fancy is ever bent on unveiling the future, takes a very much broader view of public morality than the humble, hard-working shopkeeper who makes up his cash every evening. The lawyer takes a still broader view, and so on; the higher you go in the social and political scale the broader the view you take of public morality, the ultimate result of this system of progression being that very powerful telescopes are in demand in the highest regions. What the consequences of this elasticity of views are in the more important fields of administration and social development we cannot pause to inquire, but it does strike us that things to day would be very much better were it not for the excusable forgetfulness of the founders of our institutions. Such trivialities often become calamities.

What is public morality? Where is its native clime? Is it as scarce as gold, and, like the precious metal, quoted at a premium? Can the operations of bears and bulls and other speculative brutes influence that premium, or touch the limited stock of the precious virtue? These are questions which every one asks and no one answers. We sadly fear there is not sufficient ink or philosophy in our daily-replenished ink bottle to outdo the Tucuman Congressmen and lay down a definition. Public morality is not seditious nor revolutionary, yet it often upsets an administration. It is not an article of trade, yet its introduction would considerably swell the Custom House returns. It is neither money nor gold, yet, if locked up in the vaults of the state-banks, it would unquestionably strengthen the reserves and pave the way for conversion. It is not a tax, yet with it the Municipality could replenish its coffers. It is not ideal socialism, yet its presence drives away discontent. It is no powerful drug, yet it soothes the social system and eradicates distempers. Neither is it a chemical disinfectant, yet it absorbs the impurities of the atmosphere and prevents corruption. What then is this enigmatic virtue, the name of which is so familiar, while its influence has been so long unfelt and never defined? Perhaps, the founders of our constitution, inspired with patriotic wisdom, may have thought that this mysterious public virtue admits of no definition in words but in acts, and were thus somewhat confident in the sterling qualities of the statesmen who have since guided the destinies of the Republic.

We must reluctantly relinquish the task of endeavouring to grasp this protean virtue without which the Republic has to countenance forced currency of abuses and other things which the word abuse does not properly define. Let us be thankful that the working of the new ministry affords a striking illustration of the old saying that new brooms sweep clean. The advent of fresh men in La Plata, while implying the acquisition of fresh views or the resuscitation of old ones, points to the speedy suppression of traditional abuses with which the forme administration was powerless to cope. And here the energy of a new minister bids fair to root out abuses which had grown strong under the shade of indifference and impunity. This reaction is the outcome of public morality, it is the realization of the wishes, the culmination of the aspirations of a public who have often exclaimed, perhaps with Minister Uriburu himself: Quousque tandem.....!

That complicated machine, as Governor Costa calls the Western Railway, has to be cleaned, and that Augean stable, our Custom House, is now in the hands of a financial Hercules, who, on the completion of his task, expects to increase the national revenue by 15 millions per annum. This pleasing, wholesome influence of undefined morality is most welcome at this moment. There are some things, which, although always enjoyable, are better enjoyed under certain more favorable circumstances. Any Government House employee will admit that he feels more intense delight in the enjoyment of a big Havannah of official dimensions after a copious breakfast washed down with sparkling Pommery and aromatic Moka, than while copying out one of Mr. Uriburu's abuse-eradicating decrees. And, perhaps, without wishing to draw too intimate a connection between the virtues of the weed which end in smoke and those of public morality which are at present flaming, we may be permitted to say that after the recent political "plats du jour" and the advent of a new ministry, we are all savouring with increased delight the good qualities of public morality. With what fond expressions of genuine delight we all hailed the economies of the Governor of Rioja. There was more joy caused here by the suppression of the Riojano brass-band and of the luxuries which cost so much to keep up than would be awakened to-morrow in London by the news of the conversion of our paper money. The one was the beginning, the other would be the culmination, of public morality. With the ardor of a patriot we trust our London friends will not fail to catch sight of the encouraging ray of economy it has taken so many years to travel from distant Rioja, although in this advanced age of electric light and new constellations, it is difficult for a good deed to shine with its pristine brilliancy in this naughty world. However it was the first note of the public morality we all hail as a regenerating agent to day.

Maskelyne's Mails.

London, April 16.

Accompanied by the members of the Royal family now at Aix-les Bains, the Queen yesterday journeyed to Chambéry and reviewed a body of French troops. There was a large attendance of spectators, who repeatedly shouted "Vive la Reine!"

Mr F. Tress Barry (Conservative) took his seat in the House of Commons, in succession to Mr. Richardson-Gardner, resigned. Resolutions moved by Mr. W. H. Smith for the holding of morning sittings and otherwise facilitating the progress of Government business were adopted. Earl Compton brought forwaed a motion in favour of redressing the grievances of Post Office telegraphists. This was rejected, after the Postmaster-General had promised that full consideration should be given to complaints made, by 142 votes to 102.

General von Caprivi made his first speech as Chancellor in the Prussian Diet yesterday, and, according to our Berlin correspondent, it created a decidedly favourable impression. After a eulogistic reference to his great predecessor, his Excellency declared that he had unshaken confidence in Prussia's future, and announced that one consequence of the recent change would be that the several departments of State would enjoy freer play, and would step into greater prominence than heretofore. The Government, he added, would "take the good" from whatever party it came.

Prince Albert Victor bade farewell to the Khedive at Cairo and travelled to Alexandria, whence he embarked on board one of her Majesty's cruisers for Athens.

The Duchess of Teck, who was accompanied by her daughter, the Princess Victoria Mary, opened the Daffodil Exhibition and Conference at the Royal Horticultural Gardens, Chiswick.

Mr. Wyatt, coroner for Mid-Surrey, commenced an inquiry into the death of Thomas Furlonger, a bread packer, whose body was found in one of the furnace-rooms at Nevill's bread factory, Herne-hill, on Saturday afternoon. Several witnesses having been examined, the proceedings were adjourned. A fellow-workman named Gorrie is in custody on the charge of killing the deceased.

An inquest was opened touching the death of Adolfo de Guedon, a young foreigner, who committed suicide at the Hotel de l'Europe, Leicester-square, after attempting to murder a young woman who had been staying with him. The investigation was adjourned.

James Thornton, clerk, was committed for trial from the Marylebone Police court on the charge of attempting to murder his sister-in-law, Olivia Thornton.

At the Newmarket Craven Meeting the Trial Stakes and the Fitzwilliam Plate were won by Lord Penrhyn's Mistrust and Royal Nun respectively, the Visitors' Plate and the Riddlesworth by Mr. Abington's King of Diamonds and Touchwood, while the Crawfurd Plate was carried off by Prince S Rykoff's Lord George, the Light-Weight Selling Plate by Colonel North's Rough and Ready, and the Biennial Stakes by Mr. H. Milner's Shall We Remember.

In the Stock Markets the tone was again firm, though the best prices were not quite maintained. Home, American, Canadian, and Mexican railways improved considerably. Several Foreign Government bonds were better, Argentine and Buenos Ayres issues rising from 1½ to 2 per cent. Consols for the account advanced 1 16 per cent. A net influx of £24,000 in gold was notified at the Bank.

RACING.

Sunday's meeting turned out better than was expected, no less than 61 horses sporting silk for the 6 events. Needless to say that interest was chiefly centred in the two handicaps which were respectively carried off by two heavily-weighted 3 year olds, one native and the other imported; both were first-class performances and, although there is little to choose between them, the task of Boqueron seemed the more difficult as, amongst his opponents, was the highly-fancied Solomon, who, however, on this occasion, displayed none of his usual fire and dash. Maipu made a bold bid for victory which, however, came too late to be successful; he showed, nevertheless, that the distance was well within his grasp and, in succumbing to the top-sawyer, sustained no disgrace. On paper Asteroide's most formidable opponent appeared to be Mariscal, although the latter was somewhat out of his favourite course, but danger was threatened only by the despised Nil Desperandum. The Ecurie Prisionero is clearly out of form and we shall now probably see Mariscal, at any rate, indulged with a rest and perhaps its colours will be altogether absent for some little time.

The Ecurie Talisman luckily secured two of the two-year old contests by means of their usual run-away tactics, the third being easily carried off by San Martin who gives every indication of being a stayer. In the Premio Araucaria, George Woodburn, brother of James of that ilk, made his début in the New World and displayed so much ability in the saddle that he is likely to command plenty of riding.

The maiden race proved a terrible scramble and none but those immediately concerned could have profited by the success of Congo who has hitherto run most conspicuously badly. Bien Venida greatly disappointed her followers, as she refused to struggle when the pinch came and was beaten after it had appeared to be long odds on her.

Editor STANDARD.

Dear Sir,

In to-day's issue of the STANDARD the writer erroneously states that Curtis in his book on South America says "there was no paper worthy the name in South America, that the highest circulation was between 400 and 500." I have Curtis's book before me and will quote verbatim. On page 555 he says "there are more daily papers in Buenos Ayres than in New York or London, twenty-three in all... The leading daily, La Nacion, is a great blanket-sheet, larger than the New York Evening Post, and has a circulation of thirty thousand copies." On page 617 he states, "the newspapers of Valparaiso and Buenos Ayres are the most enterprising and ably conducted, El Comercio of the former city and La Nacion of the latter ranking well besides the Provincial papers of Europe." I will give one more quotation in Mr. Curtis's own words and I think I have shown that the writer of the article has very little acquaintance with Curtis's book.

Page 169 "but twelve hundred or fifteen hundred copies is considered a fair circulation for the ordinary daily."

Yours truly

C. Howard Colket

Editor STANDARD.

Mr. F. G. Pierra, in his letter to the Nacion of Buenos Aires, published on the 4th inst. and quoted by you in your issue of March 9, speaks as follows of William H. Trescot, one of the American delegation in the recent International Conference held at Washington.

—"Mr. William Trescot — a man of shaky political antecedents. Was once a lawyer. His admirers call him a journalist. Very astute; drags his feet, staggers, looks old, lives on the state."

Without any desire to enter into controversial dispute, I beg to submit a few of the salient points in Mr. Trescot's career, as they occur to me.

William H. Trescot of South Carolina was Secretary of the U. S. Legation in London during the administration of President Fillmore; Assistant Secretary of State under President Buchanan. In 1877 he was appointed by President Hayes one of the Counsel to conduct the case of the U. S. before the Halifax Fishery Commission. His associates were Judge Foster and Richard H. Dana, the latter the annotator of Wheaton, and one of the greatest jurists that the U. States has produced in the last half of the century. Later in the same administration, Prest. Angell of the University of Michigan, John F. Swift of Cal., and Mr. Trescott were sent as commissioners to China, where they negotiated a treaty which was subsequently ratified by the Senate. In 1881, he and the late Walker Blaine, son of the then Secretary of State, were sent by President Garfield as a special commission to Chili, Peru and Bolivia. The last public service of Mr. Trescot is as one of ten United States delegates to the International Conference, by appointment of President Harrison. If a student of political affairs were asked on the moment to point out one man of all the men of the United States, a country which does not offer to its sons the opportunity of a permanent diplomatic career, as pre-eminently skilled in diplomatic usage and versed in the law of nations, he would most likely name William H. Trescot.

It is doubtless true that most of the United States delegates, as it is likewise also true of most of the eminent men of the nation in all the walks of life, have been the architects of their own fortunes, that is to say, they are what is termed "self-made" men; and it may be true, also, that ex-Senator Henry G. Davis of W., Va., does, as asserted, "retain much of the slang he learned when a break man." But the fact that this same Henry G. Davis occupied in after years the State Capitol of West Virginia as Governor of the commonwealth, which he had in humbler days worked on as a stone mason, and that he has become to-day, mainly through his own exertions, one of the leading men of the country, can hardly be said to be to his discredit.

Andrew Carnegie's name is known in both continents as a wonderfully successful man of business and a gentleman of culture. Like Mr. Davis, he has made his way in the world and is to-day the largest iron manufacturer in the United States. Referring to one of his books, at which Mr. Pierra sneers, the great Sarmiento said to me just before his death, that it (Triumphant Democracy) ought to be a text book in every school in the Argentine Republic.

Everybody who knows, either as a matter of contemporaneous political history or of tradition, anything about the reconstruction era succeeding the civil war in the United States, will relieve me of the task of stating who and what ex-Senator John B. Henderson of Mobile was and is.

It would, too, be a work of supererogation to detail the careers, well known to every American reader, of such men as Estee, Studebaker, Hanson, Coolidge and Flint. The chronicle of the lives for a quarter of a century of these solid representative business men of the United States can be found in the columns of the daily press from New York to San Francisco.

Thus much say I of the personnel of the United States delegation in the International Conference. With the remainder of Mr. Pierra's paper I have no concern.

Frank D. Hill.

THE POLITEAMA.

LES SURPRISES DU DIVORCE—TARTUFE—L'ETINCELLE

The Coquelin Company in the Politeama had crowded houses on Saturday and Sunday nights. On Saturday the full force of the company was displayed in the Surprises du Divorce, a side-splitting piece that would put a misanthrope in good humour. M. Coquelin, as usual, was in his element and kept the house in roars of laughter from beginning to end: people laughed till they wept and had the play continued an hour longer the Politeama might have been flooded with laughter tears. The comic gravity of the great French actor is unequalled, but we think that he slightly prolonged the scene when he discovers that his divorced wife has become his mother-in-law: it is only M. Coquelin who could attempt to prolong such a critical and comical situation, yet it struck one that had his stand-from-under scene on the sofa been shorter, it would have been more effective. Whilst making this remark, however, we must make full allowance for the feelings of a Frenchman who marries the daughter of a widower in order not to have a mother-in-law. Mme. Judic as a pattern mother-in-law was simply perfect; she resolved herself into the ideal French mother-in-law, but her charms and good looks were a sentence against the son-in-law who had not the good taste to marry the mother instead of the daughter. Mme. Judic was simply admirable in her difficult part, and one of her greatest qualities as an artist is the perfection with which every syllable she utters is conveyed to all parts of the house. This charm of elocution she displays in a most wonderful manner in singing and the orchestra that accompanies her deserves much credit for the manner in which it gives her particular method full scope. In the charming song "Par le trou de la serrure," she kept the house spellbound, and verily, she excels in the "nuances" of voice and acting. In answer to an encore she sang the "Nouvel An," a delicate compliment to the audience, which applauded her to the echo.

On Sunday night every seat and box in the theatre was occupied, as the "cheval de bataille," Tartufe, was a test of M. Coquelin's power to revive a heavy and old piece, more relished on the shelves of a library than on the boards of a modern theatre. Thanks to the great actor's wonderful command of the stage and influence over the audience, Tartufe was very successful. Take Coquelin out of the play and but little remains. Mme. Judic who played Dorine for the first time did all that could be expected from her soaring talents. She made up for the heaviness of the Tartufe, however, by singing in the interlude two charming pieces. She repeated the "Trou de la Serrure" of the previous evening, and then sang the exquisite "Je suis Chatouilleuse" which tickled the audience into a frenzy of applause. No words can convey the art of Mme. Judic in this light style of singing: Buenos Aires has never heard anything like it and the public are getting greedy over the delicacy: there is wit in the song, in the music, and in the acting, and there is wonderful charm in the singer. What must she have been in the zenith of her Parisian glory?

In the after-piece, L'Etincelle, Mmes. Barety and Lender had the boards to themselves. Mdlle. Lender acted with wonderful "entrain" and was much applauded; the difficult role seemed congenial to her young years and she acted with verve and a simplicity that was perfection. Mr Duquesne, as usual, in his role as the lover was very correct, a thorough actor, the same as we know him two years ago.

Railway Items.

The "sumario" of the Western Railway scandal is now complete, and we may expect a few of the tremendous disclosures to find their way into the local papers.

The death is announced of Mr. John Elordi, who served on the Western Railway since it was opened. He entered the service under the protection of his uncle, who was manager, and by his untiring energy and hard working habits soon made himself not only indispensable, but liked and esteemed by every one connected with the railway. For 20 years he was station master at Mercedes. This class of men unfortunately is becoming scarce. Mr. Elordi had been sometime before his death in the enjoyment of a well-earned pension, and it is a singular and at the same time sad coincidence that only two days before he died, he received from his fellow employees, in token of their affection and esteem, a gold plaque representing the engine "La Portena", the first ever run on the Western Railway. Both the Portena and Mr. Elordi are now at rest. Peace to his ashes.

Telegrams from San Luis state that owing to a rescission of contract, the new tramway Company there claim 24,000 dollars gold damages from a paving concern.

Owing to a complaint filed by the technical inspector in regard to the Ensenada Railway running engines with the tender in front, which is due to the want of a turning-table in the Central, the Inspector General has ordered the Company to provide the tenders with cow-catchers.

As the Central Argentine Railway have altered their plans of the Peyrano Branch, Messrs. John Meiggs Son and Co.'s Line (Cordoba to Rosario) will not cross that branch, as at first thought. In regard to the proposed crossing of the rails of the Sunchales Railway by the same line, the Inspector General has decided that the crossings shall be effected by means of a bridge (kil. 420.)

Messrs. Julio Dreher & Co., the concessionaires of the Zarate to Tony Railway, have petitioned the Government for a prolongation of 6 months for signing the contract. They allege that the conditions of the Argentine Market and of the European Market in relation thereto during the last half year have rendered it impossible to form any Company for the construction of the line.

Messrs. Gmo. Gunther & Co., concessionaires of the San Nicolas to Rufino line, have also petitioned for 6 months delay for signing the contract.

Messrs. Lucas Gonzales and Co. have informed the Board of Public Works that they cannot deliver the 30,000 dollars required by the Board to defray cost of inspection.

The La Plata Court has named Mr. Juan Martin Estrada "perito especial" in the case of the Central Argentine Railway v. Don Manuel Victorica, for expropriation of land.

A telegram from Traffic-Manager Soix at Catamarca to Dr. Araoz, reports the line temporarily repaired, and the trains running as usual. The injury to the line was caused by the tender of a special train derailing at kil. 43, and tearing up the sleepers. Nobody hurt.

EDITOR'S TABLE.

The business week opened yesterday with glorious weather and the gold premium bound for the skies again. The President's Message was read and thoroughly digested on Sunday, and the result was seen yesterday in the gold market. The Chief Magistrate's utterances are declared to be too indefinite.

A report ran through town yesterday morning to the effect that the Royal Mailer Arrato had been lost on her way home. As she is full of well-known people, this caused great

Soberbio Remate
De 33 Legnas kilometricas
O sean 82,500 hectareas de magnificos
CAMPOS
En la seccion IX de los Territorios Nacionales, divididos en 10 lotes, situados en las fracciones A B y C.
El lote No. 4 que vendemos de esta ultima fraccion, linda con el pueblo General Acha, a donde muy pronto llegará el Ferro Carril (concesion Abreu) que arranca de Bahia Blanca.
Estos campos reconocen un gravamen hipotecario de 140,000 pesos en cedulas nacionales Serie A, distribuidos en lotes como se verá mas abajo y que representan $1.70 cts. por hectarea.
Base para la venta 3 pesos hectarea.
El Viernes, 16 de Mayo
A las 2 de la tarde
Remataremos por orden terminante de su propietario siempre que exceda de la infima base establecida las 82,500 hectareas del campo arriba mencionado, en lotes como sigue:—

Fraccion A, lote	4,	10,000 hects	con 17,000 cédulas
" " "	7,	10,000 " "	" 17,000 "

" " "	3,	5,000 " "	" 8,500 "
" " "	19,	2,500 " "	" 4,000 "
" B "	2,	10,000 " "	" 17,000 "
" " "	10,	10,000 " "	" 17,000 "
" " "	11,	10,000 " "	" 17,000 "
" C "	4,	10,000 " "	" 17,000 "

Una de las mejores referencias que podemos hacer de estos campos es que en los lotes que ofrecemos en venta han estado todas las tolderias de "Utracan", "Chilin" "Malal-Huaco", "Quehuá", "Trena Lafque," "Laguna de la Gama" y otras como puede verse en los planos.
La proximidad de estos campos al Pueblo General Acha a donde muy pronto llegará la via ferrea; el gravamen hipotecario que excede en mas de un 50 ojo a la base establecida para la venta y la orden terminante que tenemos de vender excediendo esta a pesar de ser tan infima; nos hace llamar la atencion de los Estancieros, agricultores y cuantos quieran invertir bien sus ahorros, lo coloquen en estos campos, en la seguridad de que dentro de muy poco tiempo tan pronto como se inaugure la linea ferrea habian multiplicado su capital.
Si a esto se agrega la desvalorizacion de la moneda por la alta cotizacion del metalico se comprenderá que no puede darse mas acertada colocacion.
Como de costumbre el comprador que se haga cargo de la hipoteca, tomará las cedulas a precio de Bolsa y el dia de plaza el dia antes de la escrituracion abonando el excedente al contado.
En el acto de firmar el boleto abonará el 5 ojo sobre el importe total de su compra, y por planos y mas datos ocurrir a nuestra casa Alsina 480 y 482.

The meeting of shareholders of the Banco Agricola Comercial del Rio de la Plata was held on Saturday, Dr. Bernard Irigoyen, the president, occupying the chair. The report and balance sheeet were read and approved, and following the salutary policy adopted by kindred concerns, the board resolved, with the sanction of the shareholders to reduce the capital by the sale of properties, receiving a certain portion of the amount in shares. The bank has already received several properties on this head, which will facilitate the sales with regard to the properties. They represent at cost price 4,790,012 dollars, consisting in part of forty-one leagues of camp, well situated in Cordoba, eleven leagues in Entre Rios, thirty-three leagues in Corrientes, 1600 hectares in Buenos Aires, at ten leagues distance from this city, and twenty-five leagues in Santiago del Estero. The Cordoba camp has been split up into lots with a view to colouization, as several lines run through and there are stations on the land. According to the balance sheet, the assets on the 31st of March figured at 22,724,180 dollars, and the profit and loss account 511,343 dollars, of which the net profits stand at 393,295 dollars. The distribution is ten per cent to reserve fund 39,323 dollars, five per cent increase of capitsl 19,651 dollars, ten per cent board of directors 39,323 dollars, seventy-five per cent to the shareholders $294,424. Mr. J. B. Ocampo was named syndic, which closed the business of the meeting.

According to the Governor of San Juan's message, the exports during the past year exceeded the imports by 1,449,712 dollars and were composed of 3,471,000 dollars values dispatched per rail, 250,670 dollars to neighboring provinces and 954,890 dollars to Chile.

The Bolsa Reform committee appointed by the Government held one of its last meetings to day. Their report will now soon be issued and laid before Government and it is believed that a strong reinforcement of the brokers' guarantees will be recommended.

The Royal Mail packet Atrato has arrived in San Vicente, having made the passage in twelve days, which is fast time. The sale was effected yesterday at auction of the valuable city property corner of avenida República and boulevard Callao, 20 by 30 yds, at 85 dollars the square yard, buyer Mr. V. L. Casares, seller Mr. C. Gonzalez Seguras.

The meeting of shareholders of the Banco Industrial y Constructor takes place to-day. In the Report the board proposes the reduction of the capital from 3 millions to one million dols and give details of the disappearance of the ex manager with a large number of shares, which gave rise to so much comment on the market a short time ago.

The barque Amelia Rodanini whilst entering the Quequen on Saturday with a valuable cargo of building materials and merchandize for traders of Necochea struck on a bank and immediately took fire as the water got in at the quick lime. The barque was soon burnt to the water's edge and proved a total loss; damages estimated at 70,000 gold dollars.

Mr. Donckier, well known broker has gained his law suit against Mr. J. Gastelumendi.

Business at the second hour was very brisk in gold and the demand so stiff at the beginning of the hour that the cash quotation spurted up in a jump to 245, after which it began to waver and finally, falling slowly, left off at 242; for end month the same course was followed, the quotation opening at 240, rising to 245 and closing weak, at 242. Stocks were weak, Catalinas dropping to 38 and closing at 40, whilst Consolidators left off weak at 38 1/2. This sensitiveness in the shares is attributed to the rise in gold as every bound of the premium put the whole stock market trembling. Cedulas were very dull, and nothing at all was done in the sovereign stock.

The following is a summary of operations effected this evening at the second ring:—

One of Adams and Westlake's Celebrated Kerosene stoves is a real comfort at this time of the year. They burn brightly and steadily, give a good heat, require much less flue or stove-pipe, can be carried from one room to another, and are entirely free from smell or smoke.
We have no hesitation in stating that there is no kerosene stove in the world to equal this, either in heating power or freedom from smell Sole agents, Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machine Company, limited.

This company is prepared to supply the Wolseley Sheep Shearing Machines, with their accessories, in any quantities. They are now coming into general use in Australia, where, during the past season upwards of 7,000,000 of sheep have been shorn by hem; and it is confidently expected that even 20,000,000 will be shorn by them in that country this year. The following are some of their proved advantages over the ordinary shears:—
Estimate at per sheep per clip.
(1) Increase is quantity and value of wool (See testimonials).... 11d.
(2) Increased value of pelts owing to total absence of cuts 1
(3) Saving of 1 per cent, usual allowance for deaths resulting from cuts and gashes 2½
(4) Saving of labor and time, as the work can be performed in half the time usually occupied with the old style of shearing.... 1½
Total per clip per sheep..... 16d.
(5) Total absence of suffering to the sheep.
These economies add enormously to the income of the Australian wool-growers, and are applicable relatively to sheep-farmers everywhere.
The Wolseley machines may be seen in actual work at the Agricultural Rural Exhibition at Palermo.
For further particulars apply to the agents, Messrs. Agar, Cross & Co., Calle Defensa 82 & 130, Buenos Ayres, where certificates and testimonials can be seen.
